Running a nursery has been Fiona Wemyss' ambition since completing a degree in horticulture at Wye College, Kent, but it was over ten years before she could leave her office job in London to put her plans into action. Blueleaf Plants specialises in growing succulents and creating interesting and original arrangements. As part of her talk, Fiona will show you how to create a bowl garden. Come and join her and see what you can create for your patio, window box or window sill!
